Maximum continuous stay

While on an Accredited Employer Work Visa (AEWV), you have a maximum continuous stay.

A maximum continuous stay is the total time you can be on an AEWV (or multiple AEWVs of shorter durations) before you must spend time outside of New Zealand to be eligible for another AEWV. To see what maximum continuous stay applies to you, go to www.immigration.govt.nz/maximum-continuous-stay

You do not require a visa label in your passport

The details above reflect the electronic record of your visa held by Immigration New Zealand (INZ). Do not alter this letter. For information about eVisas go to www.immigration.govt.nz/evisas Please check that your visa details match your passport before you travel and contact us immediately if there are any errors.

If you get a new passport while this visa is still valid, you must request INZ to update your visa details so that they match your new passport. INZ's website has information on how to do this: www.immigration.govt.nz/transfervisa

You can verify the details of your visa online using the Visa Verification Service. With your consent, other people or organisations such as employers or health care providers can verify the details of your visa using the Visa Verification Service. See: www.immigration.govt.nz/visaview

Travelling to New Zealand

If you are outside New Zealand, you must complete a New Zealand Traveller Declaration to enter New Zealand. You can complete this declaration online in the 24 hours before you start your journey to New Zealand.

Automated systems

Some aspects of your application have been processed using automated systems in accordance with section 28 of the Immigration Act 2009. For more information about INZ's use of automated systems go to www.immigration.govt.nz/about-us/site-information/terms-of-use

You must not remain in New Zealand after your visa expires

You must hold a valid visa at all times while you are in New Zealand. If you do not hold a valid visa, you will be in New Zealand unlawfully and you will be liable for deportation. If you do not leave voluntarily before you are served with a deportation order you will face a prohibition period preventing your return to New Zealand in the future.

Your employment rights

You have the same minimum rights as any other worker in New Zealand, including the right to public holidays, leave, work breaks, wages and written employment agreements.

You can find out about your rights by going to Employment New Zealand's website.
